"Don't Throw It Away

Mrs. Mary Turner, manager of Spring Mill Museum, Appomattox County, has several reasons to say, "Don't throw it away." On display in the museum are hand made wooden pullies from Powell's Saw Mill at Long Island, donated by Mrs. W. Goode Robinson of Lynchburg. The largest of the wheels is almost six feet in diameter. And in front of them, an old wooden trunk which a householder in Buckingham County kept, unopened for several decades. When the trunk was finally forced open (note loose board near the top cover of the trunk), there were old, historic papers inside which brought the owner about $1,000. Spring Mills Museum is a four-story flour mill, now devoted to the preservation of its equipment plus farming tools, artifacts and relics from this entire area. Hundreds of interesting items have been donated to the museum by owners who "don't want to throw it away," says Mrs. Turner.

Va. Polled Hereford Assoc. First Sale Scheduled October 13

The first consignment sale sponsored by the Virginia Polled Hereford Association promises to be an outstanding event. Approximately 60 head of bulls and heifers have been consigned by 20 Polled Hereford breeders throughout the Old Dominion. The sale will be held on Monday, October the 13th, at 7:00 p.m. at the Culpeper Agricultural Enterprises in Culpeper, Virginia.

The cattle were picked from the top of the herds listed below during a recent Selection Committee trip. Members of this committee were Bill Perry, Eastern Representative of the American Polled Hereford Association; Waller Callison, Jr., Co-Chairman of the Sale Committee; and Owen Thomas, III, Sales Manager.

Seven bulls and fifty-five heifers were selected on the basis of pedigree, conformation, and rate of growth from the following herds in Virginia: G. E. Callihan, Saltville; W. D. Young Glade Spring; Fotheringay Farms, Elliston; Big Island Farm, Hollins; Summerdean Farm, Staunton; Holly Hill Farms, Mt. Sidney; Robin Roost Farms, Broadway; Ray Rudacille, Benton ville; Green Meadows Farm, Standardsville, Riverdale Farms, Charlottesville; Oakencroft, Charlottesville; Beckismont Farm, North Garden; F. T. Duncan, Faber, Winterfield Farm, Midlothian; The Old Hundred Farm, Richmond; Knoll Crest Farm, Red House; Homewood Farm, Monroe; Otterwae Farm, Forest, and Spring Lake Farm, Moneta.

Many believe that this offering will be the best set of Polled Herefords ever sold in Virginia. Every Hereford breeder should make a special effort to attend this very selective sale on October the 13th.

NO PASSING ZONE

"No Passing Zone" Markers Planned For Route 24

Pennant – shaped signs to supplement pavement markings for no-passing zones on two-lane highways will be erected soon by the State Department of Highways in a safety experiment.

The signs will be placed on the two-lane segments of US Route 60 between Richmond and Mt. Rush in Buckingham County, and on Virginia Route 24 from Mt. Rush to Appomattox, a total distance of nearly 70 miles.

J. F. Mills, Jr., the Department's traffic and planning engineer, said the new signs should be in place by November 3. They will bear a message stating "No Passing Zone", with the wording and border painted black on a yellow background.

The signs will be erected on the left side of the road opposite the beginning of each painted no-passing turrier line. Mills said it was felt that a motorist preparing to pass another vehicle would see the sign more readily on that side of the highway.

Mills explained that use of the pennant – shaped signs would be confined at present to the sections of Routes 60 and 24 as an experiment. Traffic engineers will make observations and analyze accident records with the hope that the experimental signs will produce favorable results.

Lesson Aim: To find the central theme of the old and new Testament revelations; and to discover how Christ regarded the old Testament Scriptures in relation to Himself and to His mission to the World.

Lesson Outline: Phase 1. The Author and Theme of Scripture Q1. The word Christ, the source of trust. Col. 3:16a. Q2. Christ speaks through the prophets. I Peter 1:10-12. Q3. Old Testament through them all. The New Testament writers quote liberally from the Old Testament (4) to show the fulfillment of certain Old Testament passages in the person and Ministry of Christ in events in the ancient Isreal, in the reception of the gospel by the Gentiles and in the development of the Christian Church. (2) To make plain the plan of redemption prefigured in the Old Testament, and now made real by the blood of Christ (3) to reinforce the truths of eternal consequence taught clearly in the Old Testament largely for-gotten or misinterpreted. Now strengthened by New Testament teaching. Jesus met Satan with words of Scripture. Phase 2. Inspirement Scriptures testified of Christ. John 5:39. Phase 2. His knowledge of the Scriptures. Q4. His knowledge foretold. Isa. 11:1-3. Q5. His respect for God's Word foretold. Ps. 40:7,8. Q6. His weapon in temptation Matt. 4:1-11. Luke 4:1-13. Q7. His Word is powerful. Heb. 4: 12. Q8. His prophets speaks with power, Hosea 6:5. Phase 3, His Reverence for the Old Testament. Q9. He taught with certainity. Luke 4:32, Matt. 7: 28. Q10. He amplified God's revealed will. Matt. 5:21,22, 27,28,38,43,44. Q11. He pointed men to the Scriptures. Matt. 21:42a. Luke 10:26. Phase 4 His use of the Scriptures. Q12 He recognized man's need. John 3:19-21; 1:9-11, 5. Q13. He spoke through all the prophets. Luke 24:25-27.

Note – The prophets teachings harmonize because there is only one author speaking written: In every temptation His weapon was the Word of God 'A Thus said the Lord' was a sign that could not be controverted. So long as Christ held to this position, the tempter could gain no advantage. So dear Brothers and Sisters, if we want to be like Jesus we must daily search the Scriptures Shall we?
